THE ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.—For the third time in the past thirty six years Alexandria, in common with every other place in the country, has been shocked by the announcement of the assassination of Presidents—on the night of April 14, 1865, on the morning of July 2, 1881, and yesterday, September 6, 1901. On each occasion the people of this city, regardless of political or religious creed, have been profuse in their expressions of sympathy. Neither victim of the assassin's bullet had been killed outright. Lincoln had lingered several hours before death overtook him, and McKinley now lies in a critical condition, and the result of his injuries is the cause of grave apprehension. It was about 4:45 o'clock when the startling news was received in this city that the President had been shot in the Temple of Music at the Buffalo Exposition, and a few minutes later the Gazette, the first paper to announce the sad fact, was being circulated throughout the city. The paper was bought up before the carriers could proceed far from the office, and in half an hour's time people were reading it in every quarter of the city. Groups of persons gathered around those fortunate enough to secure copies and listened with breathless attention to every word read. Later in the evening extra editions of the Washington papers reached this city, but as it was found that the Gazette's description was more complete and contained more of the details, the demand for the latter continued unabated. As the shades of night set in people gathered in front of telegraph offices and other places where bulletins were displayed or announcements made and remained in groups on the streets until a late hour. Early in the night a report was circulated that the President had died at 5:23 o'clock, but, to the relief of all, a bulletin was posted at this office announcing that the President was resting easy and that there were reasons to hope he would ultimately recover. There was a continual expression of sympathy and earnest hopes for his recovery were uttered by many lips around family altars and bedside. The regular Friday night services were held in the Jewish Synagogue on Washington street, and one of the special features was an earnest (and it is hoped effectual) prayer for the wounded President in which the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob was invoked to spare the life of the nation's executive. At a late hour the streets became deserted. This morning before the stars were out of the sky people were anxiously asking one another if the President's condition had changed, and throughout the day the sad affair has been the chief topic of conversation.

SENT ON TO THE GRAND JURY.—H. D. Clendenin, the young man arrested yesterday charged with uttering a forged check, was arraigned before Mayor Simpson this morning. The accused went on to the dock turned back on the Mayor and at times buried his face in a handkerchief, appearing to be much distressed. The evidence against him was positive and in substance as given in yesterday's Gazette. Clendenin entered Mr. J. W. Matthews' store yesterday afternoon and undertook to play the bunco game by extending his hand and asking Mr. M. if he had forgotten him. The gentleman thus accosted said he had no recollection of having seen him before, when the young man told him he was a relative of a certain person in Loudoun county well known to Mr. Matthews. Clendenin went on to say that he had been in Washington where he had met Mr. C. C. Bell, of Loudoun, and had cashed a small check for him—$12. He produced the check which purported to have been drawn by Mr. J. B. McCabe on a Leesburg bank. Clendenin went on to say he would like Mr. Matthews to cash it for him, and Mr. M. was about to do so when upon further scrutinizing the check he became convinced that the writing was neither McCabe's nor Bell's, as he was acquainted with the orthography of both. He then refused to cash it, and the young man went to

Mr. A. C. Slaymaker's dry goods store, after having put Mr. Matthews' name on the check and presented it in payment for a small purchase. What followed was described in yesterday's Gazette. Clendenin was arrested in Washington upon the arrival of the ferry boat in that city at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and brought back here. This morning he sent for Mr. Matthews and begged him to get him out of the trouble. On this occasion he said he found the check in Washington and later that he obtained possession of a blank check and filled it out. He also said he was drunk when he committed the offense. Several witnesses testified, and at the conclusion of the evidence the Mayor sent the prisoner on to the grand jury. On the person of the accused several old checks and suspicious papers were found.

WITHDREW THE CHARGE.—Among the cases before the Mayor this morning was that of a white man who had his wife arrested on the charge of threatening his life. The complainant averred that his life was in danger and he would not feel easy until his wife was placed in a position to do him no harm. The warrant was executed, but early this morning the plaintiff appeared at his station house and begged to be allowed to withdraw the charge he had made against his better half. This could not be done without the Mayor's order, when the husband, then on the stool of repentance, wept. Later the Mayor appeared, when the man begged to be allowed to withdraw the charge and asked the Mayor to administer to him an oath in which he would swear to abstain from the use of intoxicants for a given period. The Mayor granted both his requests, and the couple soon after left for their home.

BURNING OF A BARN.—Between 7 and 8 o'clock last night the southwest heavens were illuminated for a short time by a fire which destroyed a barn at 1920 Duke street, extended, owned by the Mechanics' Building Association, of which Mr. Samuel H. Lunt is the representative and occupied by F. Cockrell, a teamster. It was at first thought that the Virginia Glass Works in West End were burning. The fire is supposed to have been started by tramps. A line of hose kept in West End was rushed to the nearest plug, but as Mr. Power, of the Alexandria Water Company, was about to turn the water on a man, whose name is not known, snatched the key from his hand and ran. No water was thrown on the fire until the arrival of the Hydraulic engine and the fire was extinguished. All the live stock in the barn was saved, but the building and other contents were destroyed. The barn was insured.

FIGHT IN WEST END.—A fight occurred in West End about one o'clock this afternoon between George Bladen and Owen Jones, in which the former was so badly injured that he was brought to the Infirmary in this city for treatment. The fight occurred between Mr. Fagan's store and Seminary lane. Bladen was under the influence of liquor at the time and there having been a previous misunderstanding between the two men, when they met a fight followed. It is said Jones struck Bladen with a cobbler's stone and knocked him senseless in the road. Mr. G. C. Hensborough, who is employed by Col. Arthur Herbert, placed Bladen in a wagon and brought him to the Infirmary, where it was found his nose was broken and one side of his face split open as though it had been done with a knife.

FELL FROM A POLE.—Mr. C. H. Dekory, employed as a line man on the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway, fell from a pole at the southwest corner of King and Royal streets, about half-past five o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was badly bruised, but it is thought that his injuries are not of a serious nature. Mr. Dekory was on the first cross-arm of the pole, fixing a wire, and it is supposed that he came in contact with a live wire. He fell a distance of about twenty feet, and was picked up by bystanders and placed in a carriage and taken to his boarding house, 505 South Lee street. Afterward Dr. Delaney was summoned and after making an examination, ascertained that the patient had received a bad scalp wound, and was somewhat bruised from the fall.

FIXED FIVE DOLLARS.—A Greek fruit dealer with an unpronounceable name, the orthography of which was equally uncertain, was before the Mayor this morning charged with an assault on a colored boy. The latter testified that he was sent to the Greek's store to purchase an apple for a lady, that it proved to be rotten and he took it back and asked for another. The dealer refused to give him another and the boy laid the apple down in the store, when the proprietor struck him in the eye. The defendant undertook to give his version of the affair, though but little of it could be understood. He pleaded guilty, however, to striking the boy and was fined $5.

DEATH OF A YOUNG LADY.—Miss Lavinia Douglas, who had recently been critically ill with typhoid fever, died at Deep Point, Nomini, yesterday. The deceased had resided in Alexandria all her summer and had many acquaintances, especially in the southeastern portion of the city. Recently while at the residence of Capt. A. J. Fair she contracted typhoid fever and during convalescence had returned to her Westmoreland home. A relapse followed and death resulted. The deceased was about eighteen years old. She was of a sunny disposition, well disposed and much esteemed by all who knew her.

GRACE CHURCH.—The completion of the work of the renovation of Grace Church will be celebrated tomorrow. The church was closed and repairs begun Monday, April 15, and it was anticipated that the repairs would take a month or six weeks, but it was found that much more extensive repairs were necessary. The services of the day will be communion at 7:15 a. m.; morning prayer which the Sunday school will attend in a body at 10 a. m.; Litany and communion with sermon at 11 a. m.; baptism of infants at 4:30 p. m.; evening at 7 p. m. A special programme of music fitting the festive character of the day will be rendered.

Alexandria people let themselves be fooled today yesterday evening by Washington "straps."

PERSONAL.—Rev. W. Gaston Payor, who has many friends in this city, has been appointed pastor of the church at Clifton Forge, to succeed Rev. Father Fallon, who goes to Old Point.

Miss Mamie Agnew continues to improve.

Mrs. Bitzer and children returned Thursday from Loudoun county.

Mr. R. T. Thorp, of Mecklenburg, was in the city yesterday to see Mr. Park Agnew on political matters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smart have returned from a delightful trip through the north.

Rev. Dr. F. J. Brooke and family of Alexandria, reached the city yesterday and are guests of R. M. Guy. The young ladies return to the Mary Baldwin Seminary to resume their studies.

[Janneton News.]

Mr. Robert Portner and his two daughters have returned from Europe and today went to their summer home at Manassas.

Mr. A. W. Armstrong and family have returned from Cape Sable. Recently Mr. Armstrong was painfully bruised by the overturning of a reclining chair in which he was seated.

Mr. Harry Bondheim, who has been in the city for some time, went to Washington this morning but had to be brought home on a litter.

Mrs. Annie Coleman is quite sick with typhoid fever at the home of her father Mr. John Miller, No. 624 1/2 Patrick street.

PREFERRED THE WORK HOUSE.—A young woman from Washington named May Wallace recently became an inmate of a house on North Lee street kept by Eva Baker. The mother of the girl came here today and caused the police to take her from the house and conduct her to the station house, where the Mayor gave her the choice of going home with her mother or being sent to the work house. She said she preferred the latter and was committed for twenty days.

COLORED GIRL ARRESTED.—Cries of murder in the northwestern section of the city last night caused officers Sherwood and Roberts to double-quick to that locality where they found a young colored girl crying and bleeding. She had been assaulted by a man of her own color who ran when the officers approached. The couple had previously been quarreling. The girl was taken to the station house this morning. The Mayor gave orders for the arrest of her companion.

THE MARKET this morning was abundantly supplied. An average number of country people were present and the usual multitude of Saturday morning buyers were on hand. Prices for country produce had undergone no material change. Meats are still high with an advancing tendency and fresh fish are still a high-priced luxury.

THE LIBRARY.—The hours of opening the Alexandria Library will be from 5 to 6 p. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays until further notice. This change is made necessary because the room is needed for one of the public schools.
